Glass shower doors offer a variety of advantages and benefits, including increased space efficiency, easy cleaning and maintenance, modern aesthetic and durability.

What is silk screen printing glass?

Silk screen printing glass also called ceramic fritted glass, is a type of decorative glass. The patterns are made by printing a layer of ceramic ink on the glass surface through a screen mesh.

After that, the glass will be put into the tempering furnace. Under the high temperature of about 600°C, the ceramic ink combines with the glass permanently. It is durable, scratch-proof, with solar shading anti-glare effect. It has acid and moisture-resistant features and maintains its colors for decades.

There are kinds of colors and patterns options available. So designers tend to use ceramic fritted glass to create innovative and eye-catching glass works.
