What is 8mm+8mm colored laminated glass cladding ?

8mm+8mm colored laminated glass cladding is a curtain wall system designed to not only offer superior safety and performance, but also improve the overall aesthetics of any building. This type of curtain wall offers an extra layer of protection due to its two layers of 8mm thick laminated glass that are sandwiched together. The 8mm+8mm curtain wall can be customized with a variety of colors and textures which allow the user to choose something that matches their exact wants and needs for their building without sacrificing security.

Advantages of double laminated glass□

Double laminated glass is an increasingly popular choice when it comes to window glazing due to its many advantages. It is made from two panes of glass with a plastic interlayer in between them, making it structurally stronger than regular float glass. This construction helps the double laminated glass provide better insulation for sound and temperature, making it a great choice for those who might live in noisy or extreme climates. Furthermore, double laminated glass also provides extra safety against accidents as the interlayer prevents shattered pieces of glass from spreading around if something were to occur. Finally, this type of window glazing requires little to no maintenance as only basic cleaning and inspections are necessary.
