What is 3+3mm 6+6mm milky white laminated glass?

8+8mm white laminated safety glass is an invaluable asset for any property seeking to improve its strength and security. This type of glass is comprised of multiple layers, starting with two or more sheets of glass and sealed with a polyvinyl butyral (PVB) film in between, effectively holding the panes together and greatly increasing the shatter resistance of the glass.

The milky white color can make your home look more elegant

Incorporating white in the home can add a certain elegance to any living space. The milky white color is associated with cleanliness, purity and luxury, giving your home a shinier, brighter look. One of the best ways to employ this shade is by using white laminated safety glass. This type of glass provides a unique finish that shimmer and sparkle when hit with natural or artificial light – transforming your room into something truly divine! The white laminate also acts as a protective shield, giving you extra security while looking exquisite at the same time. Adding this beautiful white hue to your home will give it an air of sophistication and create an atmosphere everyone will be sure to enjoy.
