Oversized Glass

Oversized Glass also called jumbo size glass, due to the aesthetic requirements of modern architectural projects, achieving the desired effect becomes challenging when there are too many glass gaps. As a result, oversized glass is frequently used in contemporary structures. If the width of the glass exceeds 2440mm (8') and the height surpasses 3660mm (12'), we called it to be oversized glass.

Currently, tempered glass, laminated glass, and insulated glass, our maximum available dimensions are 3,300×13,000mm (11*42'), with an extreme length of up to 18,000mm (59'). Curved tempered glass up to 2750mm X 6200mm [9*20']
